

Sample Message-On-Hold from Script #9—August '99
INTERALIA PRODUCTIONS

[Sound effect of busy traffic in a bustling city and then a busy office—keyboards, muffled voice, phones, etc.]

How do you capture the attention of customers surrounded by the noisy business world?

[Sound effect ends.]

By making a sound investment with Interalia. Whether an automated attendant greets them, a menu guides them, or on-hold messages tell them about your products and services, our professional recording studio can create a sound that portrays your image and captures their attention, and we'll tailor your recording to fit your work environment. Interalia . . . we make you sound good.
